

General Tricks

There seem to be a variety of tips and tricks floating around about how do exploit some of the capabilities of HiSeasNet while also dealing with some of the limitations of a low-bandwidth satellite link. There are some more operator-oriented links on this wiki, but these are some general suggestions that might be helpful for scientists on ships, too.

- Transfer a file incrementally over a flapping connection